SUPPORT THE ARTS

Dear Arts Patron,

It's hard to believe the Center for the Arts is starting our 19th year providing high quality arts programming in our downtown Carrollton venue. The past year and a half have been especially challenging, but the growing numbers of visitors to our art openings, youth performances and the familiar noises of music lessons, rehearsals and meetings have left me feeling inspired for the coming year. Frankly, I missed the sights and sounds of our neighbors, especially the children, diving into the arts and exploring all sorts of creative outlets. As the old saying goes, "You never know what you've got 'til it's gone." As we emerge from isolation and focus on the upcoming year, I hope you will return as well and be a part of our community's arts and culture institution and its mission to educate, celebrate and showcase the creative talents of west Georgia.

But optimism and enthusiasm are only one part of the equation. The arts community has suffered in unique ways this year. Our teachers and studio craftsmen are counting on your generosity to help bring the enrichment of art back into our lives. Becoming a member is a great way to help fund the creative endeavors that you and other patrons have come to rely upon. Besides funding theatre, gallery and classroom projects for all ages and skill levels, your membership support also helps maintain our permanent collections, bring national and international talent to town and ensure lower ticket prices and more free events so everyone can enjoy the arts.

We are planning our schedules, artists are stocking up on supplies and directors, designers and musicians are researching their projects. I'm sure you're as ready as I am to return, so I would like to extend a personal invitation to you to become a member and take advantage of all we have to offer. This year's programming will be better than ever as our commitment to excellence continues, so don't wait. Volunteer, take a class, audition or find your favorite seat in the theater and get ready to be amazed at what our community arts center can do with your support. We'll hold the curtain for you!

Sincerely,
Tim Chapman
Superintendent of Arts
