From the Manager

Our arts education classes continue to grow with eager children and adults ready to explore their creative potential. Whenever I give a speech, I can't help but share my pride that education is the foundation of our services at the Arts Center. The arts are a lifelong pursuit and it is our goal to provide a lifetime of learning experiences.

Our classes have expanded again to serve our more advanced students, but we always have beginner-level classes. Students can still bundle certain classes to diversify their curriculum. To round out your educational journey, we offer a range of workshops that allow you to experiment with a new medium or technique. Who knows, you may fall in love with a whole new medium!

I am always amazed by the level of talent in our community. I enjoy watching a student evolve, year after year, into an emerging artist. This growth takes hard work and commitment, but when an artist achieves a goal, the return is gratifying for them and their audience, too. We have assembled a fantastic group of professionals to lead you on your own creative journey so please review our Fall Semester guide and find a new passion at your hometown arts center!

Sincerely,

Tim Chapman

COVER ARTWORK BY MICHAEL FORD

- ▷ Local artist Michael Ford majored in sculpture at the University of West Georgia's Art Department for several years. Upon leaving school, his preferred form of artistic expression evolved into acrylic painting. His early abstract work eventually moved into realism. He has a love of color and it has been said that at times he uses it like a sledgehammer, utilizing bold and vivid hues to catch the eye and make an impact.
